TTX INTRODUCES NEW LOGO, BRAND IDENTITY

Logo Signifies Railcar Provider's Focus on Future

CHICAGO, Ill. – March 3, 2008 – TTX, the nation's leading railcar provider, today unveiled a new logo and position line that reflects the company's unique position in the railroad industry.

In the new logo, the letters "TTX" are presented in a Tuscan red color in honor of the company's founder, the Pennsylvania Railroad.

"Every day, we partner with North America's railroads by forecasting and managing the market's equipment needs, and providing a dependable and available fleet of railcars," said Andrew Reardon, President and CEO of TTX. "But TTX is about more than railcars. We have a strong record of understanding where our industry is going and preparing for its future. The new logo is an outstanding reflection of who we are and where we are going."

The new TTX logo will appear on the company's railcars, as well as all customer and stakeholder communications.

About TTX

TTX Company provides railcars and related freight car management services to the North American rail industry. A fleet of more than 200,000 TTX flatcars, boxcars and gondolas move intermodal containers, automobiles, lumber, machinery, building materials, steel and other commodities across Canada, Mexico and the United States. Based in Chicago, TTX is owned by North America's leading railroads and has been providing railcar, information and accounting services since 1955.
